

my has gone to Richmond.

Hooker has been relieved of the command of the army of the Potomac.

He is succeeded by Maj. Gen George G. Meade, whose appointment gives entire satisfaction. Lee's army is pushing on into Penn., and it now seems that the rebels are determined to make that State their future battle field.

At Harrisburg and Philadelphia business has been suspended and active preparations are being made for defense.— We think there can be no doubt of a decisive battle in that vicinity soon.

Later dispatches say that Rosecrans' army moved forward on the 25th, from Murfreesboro, and after a skirmish occupied Shelbyville, Tenn. Our forces are advancing, but it is not thought a fight will take place this side of Chattanooga.

Gen. Dix, with 30,000 men is advancing on Richmond, causing a great panic; many of the citizens have left.

The army of the Potomac is deemed sufficient for the defense of Washington, but all accounts show that the rebels are making a desperate effort to carry the war into the Northern States.

A dispatch from Com. Faragut says that Port Hudson has surrendered but gives no particulars.

Resolutions of Co. G, 9th Iowa on the Death of Lieut. Tyrrell.

Camp 9th Iowa Vol. Inf. Walnut Hills, }
In rear of Vicksburg, May 31st 1863. }

EDITOR PHOENIX:—At a meeting of Co. "G" 9th Iowa Vols the following Preamble and Resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased God in his infinite mercy to take from us, by the hand of death, our beloved and esteemed friend and 1st Lieut. (Edward Tyrrell,) therefore

Resolved, That by the death of our 1st Lieut. our company has met with an human probability, had not the proslavery men of the North, kept the Government in check, and by "aid and comfort," crying "anti-coersion!" "arbitrary arrests!" "unconstitutional acts," "unjust war!" "armistice," "Compromises" "New England out in the cold," "North-western Confederacy!" "resist the draft!" &c. &c., encouraged the rebels to persevere, the rebellion would have been put down before this; and slavery, its infamous anti-democratic cause, been left untouched.— There is a Higher Law that civil Gov't established by men—the Law of nature—and that law will be obeyed, yet no honor shall attach to the "vessels of dishonor" though they worship their "trinity in unity"—slavery, whisky, and the chess board, and part, late at night, cursing the Government and shouting through the streets of Waverly—"hurrah for Jeff. Davis!" And here let me call upon all loyal people, to note particularly every treasonable display, either denunciation of the government, display of treasonable emblems, or rebel sympathy, with the time, place, and attending circumstances; for, "Verily, verily, I say unto you they shall have their reward!"

I have been informed by him that "abolitionism has got to be put down"—that we "will call upon the rocks and mountains to fall upon us, and hide us from the people!" Oh! oh! (Well, we've no objections to being hid from such ones, and we will be when they go up with a rope about their necks.) That we "will take the underground railroad to Canada mighty sudden." What a sight that will be, to see all the union, loyal men in the nation, including the army, driven to Canada by a few Copperheads! Well, I am even now thinking of going; and as I may never see him again, to return to the great Confederate my sincere thanks for the many important items of information I have doctrines is too monstrous to be thought of for an hour. When you talk to me and say, "Don't coerce anybody," I answer that we coerce man for almost every crime he commits, and why cannot you coerce the man who endeavors to break up this Government? To say nothing about a constitutional argument, common sense forbids the idea.—You may talk till you are hoarse, you have got to continue as one Government and a united people, or be divided into factions, each subject to danger from every other in the land.

Then, is there any doubt in the mind of any man as to his duty in the contest? That it is his as to his duty to give his best efforts to settle the rebellion and build up the government strong again, as God Almighty designed it should be, and what we are trying to make it.

This country, my friends, is the last hope of freemen throughout the world. It is the field upon which civilization has flourished and science begun to accomplish its great purpose. The nations and people of the old world are marking its progress from day to day, as it enfranchises men from every servitude. And are you going to give up? Young men, can you afford to give to your posterity a heritage worse than your fathers gave to you? If you can you are faithless not only to your own manhood, but to your God. You are bound to have one country, one flag and one destiny. And what country shall this be? What but the country you had before the rebellion raised its paricidal hand to strike it down. That country with the incubus of Slavery wiped away; a country that, like a weary man has lain down by the road side to rest, risen again, and is marching on to its great destiny. What flag? What other than that old flag, which has given protection and honor to your sires and yourselves from the day of Declaration to the present time. What flag but that which smiles on your assemblage to-day. Stand by it then, let it be the flag of this Union restored, reared aloft to float forever.— Or when it falls, if fall it must, let there be nothing around it but crumbling walls, and nothing above it but the Angel that shall speak the end of Time and the beginning of Eternity!

irreparable loss; Society, one of its brightest lights, and our Country, one of its best soldiers and truest patriots.

Resolved, That we offer to the bereaved widow, children, relatives and many friends in Bremer County and elsewhere of this patriot, who has fallen engaged in battling for a Holy Cause; the expression of our sincere sympathy for their heart-rending loss, and hope that "He who doeth all things well" will assuage the sorrow that now overwhelms them.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased and one to the "PHOENIX" for publication.

The following communication was received too late for insertion the week it was written, and our absence must account for its omission last week. We hope in future to be able to attend to our correspondents as they should be:

AT HOME, 9 p. m., June 15th, 1863.

MR. EDITOR:—I was yesterday afternoon informed that a communication, in your last week's paper, had created quite an excitement in Copperdom, and that the Great Confederate, alias Golden Circle, alias Green Confoanded, pompously charged that "Farrington was at the bottom of it!"—thus taking my name in vain. Does the worthy friend (?) think that nobody but myself is acquainted with his many virtues? No, no; his acquaintances are many, and, in all probability, will some day, not far distant, make the acquaintance of some Major General.

But in reference to the aforesaid article, I wish to say, (not however in the least condemnatory of a single expression therein contained,) that until yesterday
