Physician Helps Recruit Missionaries in Far East

By GUS LUMPE
Courier Staff Writer

CEDAR FALLS — Dr. R. N. Bremner is making the medical rounds again here after a much less routine trek to Australia, New Zealand and 10 Far Eastern countries.

He was on a whirlwind missionary tour of those countries for seven weeks.

Dr. Bremner traveled under the Auspices of the Navigators, an interdenominational Protestant organization headquartered in Colorado Springs, Colo., and active in the U. S., Canada and 19 other countries.

Visit Many Lands

He traveled with Lorne Sanny, president of the Navigators. They visited Japan, South Korea, Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong, Macao, South Viet Nam, the Philippines and Singapore as well as Australia and New Zealand.

Dr. Bremner said he was in Saigon, South Viet Nam, only a matter of hours. On the basis of such a brief visit he did not feel qualified to comment on the situation there.

However, he said that conversations with U. S. servicemen on Okinawa who had been in South Viet Nam indicated morale to be "uniformly high."

"They were convinced of the necessity of fighting and winning the war in Viet Nam," Dr. Bremner said. "These fellows were concerned about the anti-Viet Nam war demonstrations at home," he added.

Dr. Bremner spent most of the time in four countries — about two weeks in Japan, 10 days in Singapore and a total of 12 days in Australia and New Zealand.

Like the Midwest

What Dr. Bremner saw of the New Zealand, and Australian countrysides was "beautiful, very much like the Midwest." Dr. Bremner said he did not travel into the arid interior of Australia.

Purpose of the visit to Australia and New Zealand was primarily to recruit missionaries for work in countries whose predominant religion is not Christianity.

Throughout their trip, Dr. Bremner and Sanny talked informally to groups varying in size from 5 to 50 about Christianity and, of necessity, about America.

"The format of these meetings was such that we discussed everything our audiences wanted to talk about," Dr. Bremner explained. He said the meetings with various groups were arranged through the missionaries permanently stationed in the field.

Same Basic Needs

"The culture and language of the people we met varied but we found that people everywhere have the same basic needs. They are aware of the fact that they live in a rapidly changing world and that they need to develop a basis for their approach to life," Dr. Bremner said.

"Most people do not have this and Christ offers it," Dr. Bremner said. "Therefore we found a good reception in all countries by the people with whom we visited."

The groups with whom Dr. Bremner met included both Christians and members of the native religions. To discuss Christianity with such groups necessitates a great deal of knowledge about the other religions.

Dr. Bremner said he studied all the 11 major living religions of the world in the search for his own faith.

Talked of War

Given the informal format of the meetings, discussion was not only limited to Christianity and comparisons of Christianity with other religions but often touched other areas, most frequently the Viet Nam War.

"As Americans abroad we were called upon to explain the U. S. position," Dr. Bremner said.

Dr. Bremner said they found much sympathy for the American position among members of business groups they met in Japan but very little among students. "The students are very pacifist," Dr. Bremner said.

The "special" police, organized in 1964 to supplement Waverly's regular police force, is composed of men from a wide range of occupations.

They are on call for any emergency. Their first duty was to help keep the peace during a strike at the Schield Bantam Division of Koehring Co. here in 1964.

When the first aid course is completed, the police will take a gun safety course taught by Bob Hickle. This includes the techniques of firing various weapons.

A course in crowd and riot control is also planned under the direction of Police Chief Clarence Wickham.

The 37-man Special Police Force is divided into five squads. The Commander is Clancy Lundberg; and assistant commander, Virgil Renn.
