find tuberculosis among those persons who have been in close contact with persons known to have active TB in a contagious state. About 80 counties in Iowa have been searching for tuberculosis in this manner since 1937 when the program was started.

OBITUARY

Emil G. Grahman

Emil G. Grahman was born Dec. 1, 1886, in Fayette county, son of Fred and Augusta Schmulach Grahman. He moved to Waterloo 17 years ago and engaged in general construction work there. Previously he had farmed in Fayette and Bremer counties. He died at his Waterloo home of a heart attack on Feb. 9. On Oct. 23, 1913, he married Lena Reiser at Hawkeye. Later they were divorced.

Surviving are two sons, Clayton of Oelwein and Claude, Waukon; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Ferson and Mrs. Keith Schlie of Waterloo; three sisters, Mrs. Ida Reiser and Mrs. Opal O'Connell, both of Fredericksburg and Mrs. Ella Reay, Sumner; five brothers, William and Fritz, Sumner, Ernest, California, Edward, Fredericksburg and Arthur, Charles City. Also nine grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, two brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were held last Tuesday at the Parrott & Wood Funeral Home, Waterloo, with Rev. Bruno Schlachtenhaufen, pastor of the First Lutheran Church officiating. Burial was in Fredericksburg.

Clarence H. Haeger

Clarence H. Haeger, son of Albert and Anna E. Tietje Haeger was born April 17, 1918 in Willow River, Minn. Following the death of his father, the family moved to Sumner where he attended the Sumner Public Schools, graduating in 1935. Following his graduation he worked as a carpenter with his uncle George Tietje. He also served in the Army during World War II.

For the past 15 years he had been a resident of Texas, having lived in Corpus Christi before moving to Victoria.

Haeger, 41, died of a heart attack Jan. 31 while at work with the Brown and Root Construction Co. at the Carbide plant. Funeral services were held Feb. 3 at the Grace Lutheran Church at 3 p.m. Interment was at the Memorial Park Cemetery with the Rev. W. H. Ringhardt officiating.

He is survived by his wife, two children, Clarence Jr., and Deborah Ann; his mother Mrs. Anna Haeger of Carmi, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Frederick Hahn of Carmi, Ill., and Mrs. R. M. Douglas of Falls Church, Va., and one brother E. A. Haeger of Littleton, Colo.
