

Bridge beams arrive

One of the mammoth beams dwarfs a member of the construction crew at far right. The beams average from 55 feet to 67 feet in length with the longer sections down the middle and weigh from eleven to thirteen tons each. Which means there are a total of approximately 180 tons of concrete beams in the bridge structure.

A retired Army and Railroad Engineer, Henry Hochberger, watches with a critical eye as construction of the new Walnut Street bridge continues. Hochberger would likely have, from his own extensive experience, a number of own ideas on how the work should be done. He has been an almost daily spectator at the bridge site. This picture was taken Monday as the construction crew was preparing to receive the next of the big pre-stressed concrete bridge beams. One of Hochberger's main projects and achievements in his Army days had something to do with water, but was not connected with bridge building. He was in charge of raising the sunken ships and clearing the harbor at Marseille, France in World War II. (Another picture on page 12)

Business as usual at Sumner post office

It was business as usual at the Sumner Post Office Saturday morning when a last minute change in plans for service curtailment was received by clerk in charge Lloyd Johnston.

It had been announced that the window of the post office would be open Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m. for handing out general delivery mail only, with no other transactions handled.

A phone call early Saturday changed this plan, postponing it one week. Johnston has since been notified by the Regional Postal Department Office at St. Louis, Mo. that the scheduled curtailment of Saturday service has been postponed indefinitely. Johnston said the bulletin did not indicate for how long a period the postponement will be in effect, but for the present at least, regular Saturday morning service will be continued.

Fayette-Bremer boards reject Co. Line road bid

Bremer and Fayette county supervisors, meeting in a joint bid letting last Wednesday, rejected the only bid for the grading work on the County Line road, when the bid came in $20,000 over the engineer's estimate on the project.

The bid, submitted by Dale Upham of West Union totaled $67,200 and the estimate on the work was $47,321. Main difference in the estimate and the bid price was in the dirt moving and overhaul figures.

According to Bremer County engineer Earl Welshons, the two boards felt that by extending the completion time on the project and holding another letting a better price could be obtained.

As a result another letting is scheduled for Aug. 26 with a completion date of Sept. 30, 1969. Original completion date was Dec. 1, 1968.

The work involved was the north five and one-half miles of the County Line road, including that part of the road in the Sumner city limits.

Welshons said that the only way the supervisors could have accepted the Wednesday bid would have been to delete some of the other road work already scheduled for this year, including surfacing on the Pleasant Street road from the end of the present blacktop to the Chickasaw county line.

He said further that if a favorable bid is not received in August it will probably be necessary to re-design the grading work and ask for bids again based on new specifications.

Country Club scene of break-in attempt

An apparent attempted break-in at Meadowbrook Country Club early Tuesday morning, July 30, has been reported by Sumner Police Chief Grey Smithley.

Officer Vernon Saur discovered the attempt at 3:05 a.m. Tuesday as he was making his nightly check at the clubhouse.

A window screen on the north side of the building was partially pushed in indicating that someone had planned to enter the building.

Officer Saur may have surprised the person or persons, or they may have just changed their minds. It was apparent the break-in attempt had been abandoned. There were no scuff marks either inside or outside the building to indicate that entrance had been made and there apparently was nothing missing from the club.

Earlier this year a break-in did occur at the clubhouse when the thief or thieves taking several bottles of liquor and other items of merchandise.

School curriculum studied by State Dept. officials

Stanley Kerr, Curriculum Coordinator, and Guilford Collison, Regional Consultant, both from the State Department of Public Instruction, spent Wednesday, July 24 in the Sumner Community Schools.

The entire day was spent with Superintendent Donald Gosch surveying the existing physical facilities and examining the curriculum as offered by the local schools.

Wednesday evening they met with the school board, superintendent, principals, and members of the junior and senior high school faculty, who were available.

The purpose of this meeting was to explore and discuss curricular revisions for the future, and what facilities would be necessary for their implementation.

City '69 budget estimate shows little tax change

The hearing is set for Tuesday, Aug. 6, on the proposed budget for the City of Sumner for the coming year. This year's budget calls for total city expenditures of $205,198.

This total compares to proposed expenditures for the current year of $195,000, approved at last year's budget hearing, and actual expenses for 1967 of $189,229.

Of the total proposed expenditures, $104,198 will be raised by property taxes, just under last year's proposed tax figure of $104,515. However, income from all other sources is expected to be $93,500, compared to $86,500 for this year.

The total mill levy, based on the proposed budget, will be down just slightly this coming year from 35.575 to 35.467. However, this drop will not be enough to be noticed by local taxpayers.

Street expenditures top the budget with two funds roaduse tax and the street fund totaling $54,102. The water department is second with a total proposed budget of $29,966. The public safety fund expenses for next year are estimated at $25,005 and sanitation, $19,006.

The proposed budget was published last week, and if there are no objections at the hearing this coming Tuesday evening, it is expected it will be adopted without any further changes.

Captain Poock died Monday, July 22 at 11:05 at an Army Hospital in Vietnam, where he had been taken after being seriously wounded the day before. The wound was incurred when a grenade detonated while he was in base camp watching a play.

The original telegram advising Captain Poock's family that he had been wounded, stated that he had received "a metal fragment wound to the right eye penetrating the brain".

Captain Poock had been in Vietnam for eleven months and was serving as an Advisor to South Vietnamese troops in the Ban Dung Province. He had been assigned to the logistical administration advisory team early this year.

Story of Southern chain gang on screen

"Cool Hand Luke", showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 1, 2 and 3 at the Sunset Theatre is the explosive story of a Southern chain-gang, and a prisoner who rebels against his jailers and any system that seeks to limit his personal freedom.
 Paul Newman stars as Luke and Jo Van Fleet, George Kennedy, J. D. Cannon, Lou Antonio and Robert Drivas co-star with him.

A southern prison camp was built just north of Stockton, Calif. for "Cool Hand Luke." Included among the dozen buildings were a barracks, mess hall, warden's quarters, guard shack and dog kennels.

Nick Adams, star of "Fever Heat", which shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 4, 5, and 6, thought the story of dirt-track stock car racing, "had" to be filmed.

"Most racing pictures are about big tracks," the star said. "Yet millions of people every year support their local dirt-tracks in hundreds of towns around the country. It's time we recognized this devotion of drivers and fans and gave them a picture."
