ALONG THE SIDELINES

Evanson, Ill., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Jake Sullivan, Northwestern half-back who took a lateral pass and ran 47 yards for the winning touchdown against Minnesota last week, has been rewarded with a regular berth on the Wildcats. He will start at left halfback in place of Ken Meenan when the Wildcats meet Indiana Saturday.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 11.—(UP)—The Notre Dame varsity was to have its last workout today before leaving tomorrow for Baltimore to meet the Navy Saturday. Steve Banas, fullback, who broke his hand in the Drake game, worked out with the second and third teams yesterday, but George Melnikovich remained as first string fullback.

Columbus, O., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Watson Welver, second string fullback, may be elevated to the Ohio State varsity for the Wisconsin game in order to give the Buckeyes more offensive strength. Welver has been showing up well at carrying the ball in practice.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Minnesota's reserves probably will play against Cornell college this week, giving the regulars a rest before meeting Michigan next week. My Ubl already has started practicing on pass plays to be used against Michigan.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Wisconsin's attack appeared feeble against the freshmen in yesterday's workout. The Badgers' backfield was composed of McGuire, Pacetti, Rehbock and Schneller.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Coach Noble Kizer said today he was satisfied with Purdue's offense and would devote the rest of practice this week to building up a defense for Iowa's invasion Saturday.

Iowa City, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Coach Burt Ingwersen probably will keep Clearman and Loeffel, ends and Plickering, quarterback, on Iowa's first team for the Purdue game. This trio started for the first time against Nebraska last week and performed capably.

ALONG BIG SIX SIDELINES

(By United Press.) Norman, Okla.—The Oklahoma Sooners will be without the services of their scrappy center, Paul Young, when they play Missouri Saturday at Columbia, it was indicated today. Young, regular player, is suffering from an old shoulder injury.

Columbia, Mo.—The Missourians passing attack will be used in conjunction with powerhouse plays against Oklahoma it appeared today. From his hospital bed, Coach Gwyn Henry was having offensive practice centered not only around the passes from Stuber to Schiele but around the running of Gill, Hatfield and Collins, backs.

Ames, Ia.—The Iowa State Cyclones, competing in a non-conference game Saturday against Drake, will hold easy practice sessions this week and bend down next for the Nebraska game. If Nebraska leads the Kansas Aggies this week, the Iowa State game will decide the championship.

Lincoln, Neb.—Changes in Nebraska's lineup before the Kansas Aggie game at Manhattan appeared likely today. Reserve backs who showed power in the Iowa State game last week probably will start in place of Musterson and Sauer, star backs. Sauer recovering from a leg injury is expected to get into the game.

Manhattan, Kan.—The Kansas Aggies, not to be disheartened by their loss to Iowa State, stressed a running and passing attack yesterday to use against Nebraska in the homecoming game here Saturday, and practiced defense today.

Lawrence, Kan.—A passing attack, lacking in Kansas' play this season, is being developed this week by Coach Bill Hargiss, who will employ it Saturday in the Jayhawkers' non-conference game with Washington at St. Louis.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

(By HENRY McLEMORE, U. P. Staff Correspondent.) New York, Nov. 11.—(UP)—"The best way to win absolute obscurity, except by operating a miniature golf course, is to get a job as a lineman on a football team, preferably a job as a guard, center or tackle.

There on the line, flanked by men who, from the stands at least, look just like you do, and act just like you do, no one is likely to call your name, notice you, or throw your name across the headlines of the nation's newspapers, even if you should thoughtlessly play the best game on the field, effigy out of 10 experts and 999 out of a 1,000 spectators will be too busy watching the backfield to pay you any mind.

And if you don't believe it, select 100 average football fans and ask them to name, in one minute, 15 football players, other than members of teams they see regularly. I'm convinced the 100 would name 13 or 14 backfield men, and maybe a couple of linemen. This is very unfair to the linemen, those noble souls who allow the backfield men to sweep out into the open and gallop to fame, and sometimes, fortune.

We got to thinking along these lines after reading the accounts of Georgia's victory over N. Y. U. and Notre Dame's whipping of Penn. Now the best men on the field in the Georgia-New York shindig were a couple of red-headed southern guards, Leathers and Maddox by name. These babies, tough as a steak slice of Gibraltar and mean as bobcats, did everything right. But you never would know it from reading the papers. And if the experts didn't see their work, you can imagine how much attention was paid it by spectators.

Soon as I get my first six million I'm going to end this business of giving the backs all the credit. Soon as I get my first five million I'll tell you how I plan to do it.

Care of Captive Turtles. Turtles live well in captivity in a screened box filled with earth if the earth is removed every few months and kept moist at all times. They are disinclined to feed in winter, but in warm weather will eat anglerworms, slugs and insects, also strawberries, tomatoes, lettuce, melon-rind and other succulent fruits. See Old Family Album. It is estimated that men on this continent annually pay $750,000,000 to barbers. And if you don't believe the result is worth every penny of it, just riddle through the pages of the old family album.—Hamilton (Ontario) Spectator.

SULPHURIC ACID IS A GLUTTON!

Avoid Sulphur in Gasoline

Sulphuric acid eats out more than half its own weight in steel. Any high school chemistry student knows this simple formula, and these atomic weights:

This means 98 parts by weight of gluttonous sulphuric acid (H2SO4) take up more than 55 parts of steel (iron). That explains why only a small amount of this ravenous acid can eat into valves, cylinder walls, piston rings, wrist-pins and bearings. Sulphuric acid explains many of your repair bills. Sulphuric acid forms from the sulphur left in gasoline by some refiners. Skelly chooses crude oils low in sulphur content. These are carefully refined, then the gasoline is put through Skelly "sulphur-wash" processes to take out harmful, corroding sulphur. It is easy to play safe. Turn to a Skelly pump. Refill with Skelly Sulphur-Free Gasoline.
