

RANDALIA

Decorations Day was observed Tuesday by going to the cemetery in the morning and decorating the soldiers graves by Woman's Relief Corps. At 2 p. m. a program was held at the church: Song by Audience. Reading—Vivian Wells. Song: James and Phyllis. Hof. "Honey Betsy: Ross Made the Flag." Song: Carl Clemens. "Red, White and Blue." Speech—Dr. Vivian Smith, U. I. U. Song—Audience.

Hostess to Church Board Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Talcott were hostesses to the members of the church board and their families Sunday at their home. About 25 were present. After a beautiful picnic dinner a meeting was held and plans were discussed regarding the redecoration of the church. A committee was appointed to investigate and to report June 18th, when the board will meet after church in the social room for picnic dinner followed by meeting. All members please keep date in mind.

Owens-Friedrichs Wedding Mr. and Mrs. Carl Owen announce the marriage of their daughter Cary to Carl Friedrichs of Aredale. The wedding took place June 4 Sunday afternoon at Sheffield, Iowa. The attendants were Gertrude Friedrichs and Edwin Cutler, both of Aredale. The couple will live seven miles north and one-half mile west of Bristow.

Enlists in U. S. Air Reserve Noel Bacon, who has been teaching commerce in the high school at Soldier, Iowa, for the past year, enlisted in the U. S. Naval Air Reserve June 1st. He will report at the air base in Minneapolis on June 15th for elimination flight training. This training will cover one month's time. He will be transferred to Pensacola, Florida this fall, where the central air base of the U. S. Navy is located, providing elimination training is accepted.

W. R. C. Met Woman's Relief Corps met Friday afternoon at the hall regular business was transacted and the next meeting will be held June 16 at the hall. Mrs. W. J. Jennett and baby who have been at the home of her mother, Nellie Carpenter went to her home at Des Moines Sunday. La Vern Carpenter and Fred Orbell driving her there. Mrs. Jennett is recovering slowly from her recent illness.

Church Notes Rev. C. Oelke. Children's Day will be observed in the church June 18th. A program will be given, also a pageant "Unexpected Angel." All classes have part in it. Vacation School will start June 12, until June 26. 9 o'clock until 11:30 a. m. Staff will be published later. Choir will meet Wednesday evening at the church.

Band Concert will be held Friday evening from 8 to 9 during the summer on the lawn at A. L. Spatcher's. Miss Cary Owen was showered with gifts from about 50 friends at the home of her parents on Thursday, June 1. The hostesses were Grace McSweeney and Irene McFadden.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fortney are enjoying a radio, a gift from their niece, Mrs. Harry Fortney, Dalmead, Alberta, Canada. Another picnic supper of the Town families will be held Friday night, June 9. Supper to be at 5:30 on the lawn between Rev. Oelke and Mrs. Vaughn's residence. Program will be had. All families invited.

Flag Day will be held at Oelwein Park June 14. Everyone is welcome to attend. Little Dixie Lee Goodman spent the week end with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Adams at Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Van Sickle and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hack and family spent Decoration Day at the home of Mrs. L. H. Van Sickle. Doyle Owen, Garnaville spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Owen.

The barn on the residence that Ray Grant purchased has been torn down and will build a double garage for his cars.

Mrs. Wm. Schroeder and family spent Saturday evening in home of parents Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Decker at Westgate. Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Severs and family were Sunday dinner guests at Geo. Metcalf's, Mrs. Handy, Arlington, mother of Mrs. Metcalf and Mrs. Zaida Ditchard celebrated their birthdays there also today.

Miss Betty Hjorthorn, Eureka, Kansas, is visiting with her sister and family, Mrs. Ford Turner. Theodore Turner is going back with her for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wilbur and family and Mrs. L. H. VanSickle spent Saturday evening in Waterloo at A. L. Van Sickle's and F. G. Hack's. On Sunday they went to Brandon to attend the funeral of Mr. Lee Trezona.

Mrs. A. L. Spatcher, Dixie Lee Goodman, Mrs. E. C. Knight and Noel Bacon were dinner guests in the Kenneth Adams home at Newton Saturday and were also business callers in Des Moines and Marshalltown.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Severs attended funeral for her niece, Mar-

Wings of Youth By HELEN WELSHIMER

SYNOPSIS SARAH ANNE MELTON, minister's daughter and close friend of JUDITH DRAKE, daughter of luxury, had a childhood romance with JACK COURTNEY, who attains sudden fame by flying the Pacific.

CHAPTER FOUR SARAH ANNE slipped out of the booth while Judith talked to Jack, but the eyes of the minister's daughter came roving back to the animated, vivid face of the tall, slim girl. Judy was serious and she spoke quickly. Then laughter broke through the earnestness in her eyes and around her mouth. After that she was gayer, freer. Sarah Anne knew.

"When the door opened and Judy came out she was smiling. 'Sally Anne, you're lucky. Now, why didn't they make quintuplets on his pattern?' 'I'm not lucky. He's not fastened to me by even a piece of pink string.' She caught sight of the colored cord wound in a ball on the drug store counter. 'He hasn't seen me for ages, but he remembered your beauty.' 'I remember me?' Something shined like awe and surprise and elation, made a rainbow in Judy's eyes. 'You're not handing out packages from an emptyarder?'"

"Of course not. Who wouldn't remember you?" And for the second time that day Sarah Anne felt small, unimportant, just a scrap of a girl with freckles on her nose, dark hair and eyes, and a nice disposition. A girl who played the piano for the young people's meetings because, while there were better musicians in the group, no one else could be counted upon to attend regularly. A girl who told stories to the children, in the church reading room at three o'clock every Saturday afternoon, because everyone else was too busy. A girl who called on the sick and shut-ins because she had a habit of singling some sparkling comment from the outside world, they said, though she never knew why it sparkled.

She did not pause to remember, nor would she have recognized the description had she read it, that her hair was a blue-black mystery, and her eyes were so wide and so changing that sometimes people were frightened at their challenge and the tilted nose with its seven freckles was delightfully human.

"How about a soda?" Judith was saying, that odd ringing of bells in her voice. "But when the two girls were seated, she laughed softly. 'I don't want to attract attention to the personage, but isn't that your young sister Corinne who apparently has fallen in a baptistry?' 'She dries!' Corinne's skirts were giving off a steady stream of water. Now she saw the two girls and came over to them. 'I won't catch pneumonia, really. It just happened. Bob Ferral had ideas about life and I didn't agree, so he pushed me into the swimming pool at the Country club. You see, Bob wanted to elope tonight and I didn't. So he said I aggravated him. Now Ted and Melville are getting me some hot coffee before I go home.'"

Corinne was nonchalant and gay about her bedraggled appearance. Her yellow hair shone and her sparkling sea-green eyes approved of life, no matter what it did to her. She was a freshman in college, home now for the summer, and wherever she went a crowd of young people, preferably men, greeted her enthusiastically. "Whom were you calling?" Corinne asked candidly. "Is the personage 'phone out of order or working too well?" "We called Jack," Sarah Anne answered. "He belongs to us—the older generation, you know. He's all of 24." "Not a bad age for a man?" Corinne volunteered. "You should have reached him sooner. With all the female dopes from coast to coast wanting his autograph, he'll run into snarls. Any luck?" "What kind of luck?" "Strong words to tell your grandchildren. You know, the night of the triumph the interpid young birdman told you he had to think of something silly to stay awake, so he remembered how you played leap-frog or something. Well, I'll be leaving. The young gentlemen have the coffee here." "I forgot to tell you the news," Judy said, still with that breathless catch in her voice. "Jack did use our engine! Made the mechanics change at the last moment! So it's all right. Isn't it glorious?" "Of course, only Bing will win his thousand?" "Bing? His thousand?" She looked bewildered. "Oh, that's all right. He'll never soar, so if a few dollars gives him joy—I think I'll take my ship up for a little while after all. Want to come?" Sarah Anne shook her head. "I have to grade speaking papers. Let me walk home from the store, and you run on. I'll see you tomorrow, Judy."

"—so he pushed me into the swimming pool," said Corinne.

She walked slowly. The branches of the tall maples met in an arch across the sidewalk and star-dust spattered through. Somewhere a radio played a song of love that didn't last. There were so many songs dedicated to transient devotion. Was there a reason? The magic of the day was gone. Back in the drug store Corinne laughed her brilliant young way through the evening. And pretty soon Judith would fly toward the stars.

Sarah Anne stretched her slim arms. She could stretch her soul, she could give her heart wings, but she was earth-bound unless someone took her skyward. A minister's salary and a third-grade teacher's salary, combined, could no more than meet the needs of the personage. For a moment she wished she could afford a ship and fly above reality, and escape—escape from what? Suddenly she wished she knew. In her room she undressed quickly. It was a vibrant, happy room with a single bed with a quilted headboard of flowered taffeta. There were no legs and no footboard. A gray rug, once used in the living room downstairs, covered the floor, and the draperies over the window seat and in the deep chair, matched the quilted headboard in a chintz. A low bookcase was filled with well-loved volumes, and there were a few fat lamps, a tea table with a brass tea kettle somebody had brought her from London, half a dozen flowered cups and saucers that matched a teapot, cream pitcher and sugar bowl, another gift from Judy. Her desk occupied one wide wall. It wasn't really a desk. It was a long, low table which had stood originally in the minister's study until the congregation made him a gift of a real desk on his fifteenth anniversary of administering to them. A row of books marched across the back of the table, and a desk set, rose leather with her initials in gold, was there, too. Judy again. Odd how many things in her room came from Judith, she mused suddenly. That tall bottle of French perfume on the dresser, the crystal and silver powder and rouge boxes, the prints on either side of the fireplace. Brushing her hair until it shone darkly, she thought about Judith, who was tall, lithe, free as the wide wind blowing, and generous to a fault. Too often men feared her radiant beauty, the assurance that wealth, charm, poise gave her. Once she had confided to Sarah Anne that she was lonely. It was soon after that admission that Bing Wells came to work in her father's factory. Next door, in the slim steeple of the old gray church, the clock began to strike slowly, serenely, as though all its hours marched faithfully to virtue. From her window Sarah Anne saw the long hands silhouetted against the lighted face. It was twelve o'clock. She heard a whir overhead. Judy was up there. Ah, yes, there was the ship. Judy flew, but she flew alone. Now she, Sarah Anne, who had no ship and never would have, could fly in an enchanted cockpit. A cloud crossed the moon and suddenly the ship was gone. A little fear, nameless and the worse because it was, went to bed with Sarah Anne. It was with her after school the next day when Mrs. Courtney came to her room to ask her to drop by as she left the building. But the eyes of Jack's mother were shining and her gray hair was waving around her flushed face. "I've some news that I think you might like, too," she said. "From Jack?" "Is there any other news?" the woman laughed happily. "No," Sarah Anne agreed. "None at all." "He will be here at eight tomorrow night. Something seems to have hurried his plans." At eight, tomorrow night! (To Be Continued)

Roy Metcalf's for Mrs. Beth Doughty. Miss Fernie Salisbury, who has been teaching at Aurora is home on a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Bemis and family, Waterloo and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jarchow and family were dinner and supper guests at parental M. E. Nixon home. Betty Bemis is going to visit with her grandparents for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Clow of Maynard were dinner guests Sunday at Norme Watts. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Homewood, Mr. Laurence Freeman and son Teepee were dinner guests Sunday at Fred McFadden's.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schroeder and family, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Miner and Mrs. Emily Voelker celebrated John Potratz birthday at Westgate Sunday evening.

Mr. Roy Neil was a caller at Fairbanks Monday. Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Adams are spending the week in the parental A. L. Spatcher home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Binning visited in the Ralph Binning home Saturday. La Verne Carpenter came home Thursday afternoon from Cedar Falls for the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grant and Fred Grant visited friends in Oelwein Tuesday night. Clair Binning spent the week with Donald Fetrow. Mrs. Homer Cue and Donald visited Wednesday afternoon at sons, Mr. Jerry Brush and family. Mrs. D. M. Davis, Oelwein spent Thursday and Friday with her daughter, Mrs. Lee Jellings. Mr. and Mrs. Zody, Oelwein were visiting Sunday at Henry Salisburys. Mrs. Estella Odekirk is visiting at the home of D. M. Davis, Oelwein. Mrs. Maude Irvine, Independence spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Lewis. Mrs. Albert Benter spent Friday and Saturday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Mary Willman, Hawkeye. Miss Marjorie Benter spent Sunday visiting at Gloria Grimms, Hawkeye. Mrs. R. P. Lewis and Mrs. Dewey Puls spent Thursday on business in West Union. Leland Benter and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Benter spent Decoration Day at Lawler with the latter's father, Mrs. F. Benz. Mrs. E. R. Wilbur and Mrs. L. H. Van Sickle spent Friday forenoon visiting Mrs. M. S. Schneider at Fayette. She is not very well again. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Puls spent Sunday p. m. at R. P. Lewis. Mrs. Severson and Danny Sunday dinner guests at Ford Turners.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Patterson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Whittenbaugh and son, Terry Fay, were Sunday visitors in the Eldred Patterson home at West Union. Mrs. Nora Patterson came home with them for a week's visit. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Kenneth and Leo, Mrs. Francis Corkery, Mrs. Marie Dwyer and Matt and Miss Eileen Rafits went to Dubuque Monday to attend the commencement exercises of Kathryn Baldwin who finished four years at Clark college. Sally, Ralph and Jimmie Elinger of Gretna, Nebraska came Saturday to visit in the Fremont Clark home. Sally and Ralph will return home after a couple weeks visit and Jimmie plans to stay for the summer. Mrs. Vernon Knight and son Charles of Elgin visited Tuesday and Wednesday in the George Jennings home. Mrs. Mary Leohart, Mr. and Mrs. Will Leohart and Dean Leohart of Decorah were dinner guests in the Roy Leohart home Sunday. Henry Kuhn is seriously ill and Eddie Davis of Volga is caring for him. Mrs. Lily Livingston came home Tuesday from Cedar Rapids where she spent from Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Wetzel. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jensen and daughters of Waterloo were dinner guests Tuesday in the Bert Erickson home.

WADENA

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Kenneth and Leo, Mrs. Francis Corkery, Mrs. Marie Dwyer and Matt and Miss Eileen Rafits went to Dubuque Monday to attend the commencement exercises of Kathryn Baldwin who finished four years at Clark college. Sally, Ralph and Jimmie Elinger of Gretna, Nebraska came Saturday to visit in the Fremont Clark home. Sally and Ralph will return home after a couple weeks visit and Jimmie plans to stay for the summer. Mrs. Vernon Knight and son Charles of Elgin visited Tuesday and Wednesday in the George Jennings home. Mrs. Mary Leohart, Mr. and Mrs. Will Leohart and Dean Leohart of Decorah were dinner guests in the Roy Leohart home Sunday. Henry Kuhn is seriously ill and Eddie Davis of Volga is caring for him. Mrs. Lily Livingston came home Tuesday from Cedar Rapids where she spent from Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Wetzel. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jensen and daughters of Waterloo were dinner guests Tuesday in the Bert Erickson home.

Advertising in the Oelwein Daily Register is not a gamble. If you offer good values and word your ad carefully, you are sure to find a buyer.

Wife Preservers A pinch of baking soda added to boiled hairup will prevent scald from crystallizing. RAY'S TAXI Phone 335 Also Truck Service

24 HOUR SERVICE Martin's Standard Service (Artie Martin, Mgr.) 110 No. Fred's. Oelwein WE INSURE Business Buildings Mercantile Stocks Dwellings Furniture Automobiles BERT L. BELT PHONE 16

General Roofing State Roofing Co. GEORGE LAFLORE Phone 744 32 2d St. NW.

"BUY SHOES X-RAY FITTED" MODERN SHOE SHOP

DERAYCO House Paint A good, full-bodied House Paint at Only $2.15 a gal. in 5 gal. lots. RENEW OLD ROOFS with DEVOE Asphalt and Asbestos Roof Coating at Small Cost! Full Line of Brushes and Painter's Supplies Knapp Coal Co. Phone 80

RAY'S TAXI Phone 335 Also Truck Service

You Always Save At Klensman's Cleaners and Furriers Phone 1112 : 702 1st Ave. SW.

WE SELL YARN, KNITTING NEEDLES and BOOKS and also give free knitting instruction at the LADIES' EXCHANGE 150 Second Ave. NW. WHITE OAK POSTS CORNER POSTS AND BRACES American Glidden Barbed Wire CARL A. FOLLIMER Stanley, Iowa.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT Breakfasts Short Orders Home Made Chili - Sandwiches BLUEBIRD CAFE (Earl D. Bowers, Prop.) INGERSOLL & INGERSOLL Attorneys at Law Location Over Felts Hardware

FREE Delivery! Call 160 Tomorrow and we will Call For your Shoes and Deliver them FREE! BETTER QUALITY BETTER SERVICE PETE'S SHOE SERVICE Featuring Invisible Soles

OU PONT PAINTS add Beauty and Value to your Home J. L. BUTLER COAL CO. Phone 305 100 First Street S. E.

McFADDEN GLASSES Registered Optometrist "On the Corner" : Phone 150 HAZLE'S Beauty Shop All Lines of Beauty Work. We Specialize in Permanent Waving and Hair Cutting. 4 Experienced Operators. Phone 8 Over Allways

SPRAGUE'S Hatchery & Elevator Quality Chicks, Feeds & Seeds We Buy Grain. Phone 36 We Service All Makes of Refrigerators Wiring and Fixtures Miller Electric Co. PHONE 76

REFRIGERATOR SERVICE We Service All Makes OELWEIN BATTERY AND ELECTRIC CO. GOOD FARM LOANS 4% and 4 1/2% 5 to 10 Yrs. No Stock to Buy. With or Without Commission ROY ZABRISKIE Stanley, Iowa. Phone 2

Precision Glasses Dr. Louis C. Rathbun Optometrist ANY LENS DUPLICATED -Location- Rathbun Bros. Jewelry Store 18 So. Fred. Ave. Phone 332 Friendly LOANS On Autos, Furniture, Live Stock, Signatures, Etc. Autos Refinanced Payments Reduced! and extra cash if desired. Pool all your obligations and have just one place to pay. Money immediately, why wait longer. Charges, small legal loan rate. IOWA FINANCE CO., OELWEIN across from 10c store. 321 1/2 So. Frederick Ave. Ph. 118

WILDWOOD DANCING EVERY NITE 21 Cents Admission on Orchestra Nites - ALWAYS GOOD FOOD - Our Specialty—Chicken, Steaks, Lunches Kitchen in charge of Mrs. Carey Lavern Luther, Manager

PAINT NOW use ROGERS Paints and Varnishes Buy from Pfeiffer's DRUG STORE, INC. PHONE 54

BETTER WORK at Lower Prices EXPERT JOB PRINTING Skilled craftsmen can give you the best printing service. All our printers and designers are experts on jobs of all kinds. If you want the best for least—call us! ANNOUNCEMENTS—PROGRAMS—CARDS BILLHEADS—INVITATIONS—CIRCULAR LETTER HEADS—ENVELOPES—MENUS Oelwein Daily Register

Put on a LASTING ROOF FOR BETTER Protection Now is the time to put on that new roof or cover the old worn out siding with Asbestos or Asphalt Brick Siding while prices are low. Estimates furnished free. All work guaranteed. A. J. JARDEE 123 Sixth Ave. N. E. Phone 943-J