MAYOR RECTOR STATES POSITION

Would Break All Connection With the Cedar River.

Would Erect Storage Reservoirs to Hold 4,500,000 Gals. Water.

Mayor John R. Rector gave out an interview on the water situation to a representative of the Daily Courier yesterday afternoon. He declared he would insist on an exclusive artesian supply, and where any change is to be made the matter should not be left to the mayor or members of the city council, but to a vote of the people. He also thought the city council should insist on the publicity clause and should make a change in the schedule of rates, making it obligatory on the part of the company to show cause before installing a meter on a residence consumer. Failure to do this, in the opinion of the mayor, will transform Waterloo, a city of beautiful lawns, into a city of no lawns at all, especially in a dry season. He says that if the water of a citizen who pays over $9 a year is metered it will practically break him up. He thought that if there was needless waste of water that fact should be established before the consumer is obliged to have a meter installed.

"Regarding the source of supply," observed the mayor, "my position has always been that the city can get an adequate supply of pure water from artesian wells, and there should be nothing in the franchise which would enable the water company to change from that sort of supply to a river supply without a vote of the people. My position on this part of the franchise, as well as on the other provisions which seem objectionable to me, would be the same whoever might be seeking the franchise. I have no particular antipathy to Harris & Co. What I want is an adequate supply of pure and wholesome water at reasonable rates. I want to say that my position is not inspired by a desire to do the behest of any man or set of men; I want to say that I am not under the domination of any man or any set of men, and I will be willing to pay a forfeit of a thousand dollars if anything to the contrary can be established."

Will Call Special Election.

Mayor Rector intimated that if the source of supply is not well guarded and provision made for the people to say when the river water is poured into the mains that he will call a special election on a municipal ownership proposition. Last night the council changed the wording of paragraph four in such a way as to provide for an artesian supply, but provided that, in case of extraordinary fire calamity, the seal to the pipe from the river could be broken and the contents of the river pumped into the mains. Mayor Rector said this morning he was as much opposed to the revised paragraph four as to the original paragraph.

"It might be possible for a mayor or city council favorable to the water company to go into collusion and we might still be getting river water instead of artesian water," continued the mayor. "I would break all connection with the river, and compel the water company—not necessarily Harris & Co. alone, but any company to whom a franchise would be granted—to erect three storage reservoirs with a capacity of 1,500,000 each or 4,500,000 for all, to be used in case of extraordinary menace by fire. If it is demonstrated that a ground water supply is impossible, I would provide for a vote of the people as to what should be the source of the supply."

In order to avoid the water in the reservoirs becoming stagnant and polluted, the mayor would have their contents changed at stated intervals.

"We need to fear a typhoid epidemic more than a conflagration," explained the mayor.

A New Yorker Serves the Shortest Sentence on Record.

New York, May 23.—"He walked right in and turned around and walked right out again." That's how Max Rothstein, of 196 Third street, served what is probably the shortest prison term on record. He was in jail just one minute. Arrested for peddling without a license, Rothstein was arraigned in the Essex Market Court.

GET STOLEN STANHOPE.

Rig Stolen by "Bob" Wilson in Sheriff's Possession at Waterloo.

Marshalltown T.-R., May 27.—Up to noon today no arrest had been effected in the case of "Bob" Wilson, the young man who stole a horse and stanhope belonging to C. J. Schoeler. Word received from Waterloo, however, is to the effect that the stanhope which was traded to a liveryman at Shell Rock, is now in the possession of the sheriff of Waterloo, and the officer has started out of Waterloo with a double rig, working north in an effort to locate Wilson. Constable Wilson went to Mason City Saturday night and will come south from that point. The officers have hopes of capturing Wilson.

GRAVES COME HIGHER.

Cost of Dying in Pittsburg Increased by Cemetery Association.

Pittsburg, May 23.—Following the recent investigation of the high cost of living expenses in this city by a special committee of the legislature, which found Pittsburg to be the most expensive city in the country in which to live, an announcement by the cemetery association imposes even further burdens in the increase of the price of graves. Undertakers in the city have received notice from cemetery officials that beginning June 1 the prices of single graves will be advanced $2 over the present rate. The burden falls heavily on the poor, who are accustomed to buying single graves and the increase not affect the lot holders in the cemeteries. The reason assigned for the advance is the rapidity with which the local "cities of the dead" are filling up and the rapid advance in the valuation of land.

Noah T. Wood of Adrian, Mich., writes to the Daily Courier on business matters and adds the following about a well-known horse owned by him: "The Pacer," which was born in Waterloo, will this year go around the circuit in all the big stakes. He is eligible to the 2:12 and 2:15 classes and it is predicted by good judges that his opponents will have to go in 2:05 or better to beat him. I have two half-brothers to 'The Pacer,' by Todd, a 2-year-old and a yearling, which are very handsome. These animals give every promise of being fast trotters. We have a 2-year-old colt by Banco, dam Nora Wood, which the Waterloo people will remember. Banco, the colt, is a good deal better trotter than the mother, 'Nora'.

The report was accompanied by a check from Mr. Grout for the sum specified.
